Posted on Jan 19, 2008 - 1:09am by John P. in News

Ok, divorce sucks. And I don't recommend it to anyone! But if you are going to get a divorce you might want to consider Playmate Corri Fetman. The hottest attorney on the planet. Not only did she pose for Playboy magazine, but she now has a regular column writing for them called The Lawyer of Love.

In other news, Corri has been making headlines for the racy billboards she's plastering all over Chicago in her new, "Life's short. Get a divorce." campaign. It features two hot bodied models – one of which is actually Corri!

Here is a video interview on Chicago's Fox News affiliate. The guy interviewing her is way too happy...

Hey John,

Ver interesting i must say, american marketing campaigns never seem to stop surprising me. I guess no law firm would "risk" their image in such a way in poland. (deriving from the fact that divorce rate is not that high in poland, yet).

cheers

Now i understand whats the reason behind the high divorce average in U.S. With lawyers who are posing for playboy you don't need a wife. Hahahah
Just kidding. I don't recommend divorce to anyone. This lady has done all this to catch the attention.

I always thought these things were pretty much just gimmicky ploys to get business. But I guess since it's working, she must be happy with the results. I've never been a fan of them, though.

I figure the only way to avoid divorce is by not getting married, so that is basically how I am going about the whole thing. But it must pay well to be a divorce lawyer – so maybe that would be a good career choice in my next life.

This life I have dedicated to be a bum, I tried beach bum for a year, but that was too hard :)

<http://nomarriage.com/>

It's a hilarious (while sexist) site that shows some downsides for guys on the marriage side of things.

Good attention-grabbing ads, but who would trust this bimbo with their divorce?
